CAULDRON

PRESENTED TO THE

CLASS OF 1964

St. Mary's High School
Stockton, California

Channel SMHS-TV

. . . invites you to tune in to the most spectacular re-run of recent years, "Panorama '63-'64." As you follow the stars, cheer the smash hits, applaud the Emmy winners and thrill again to the "Wide World of Sports," may each vivid scene be etched with pleasant memories.

To you freshmen who flip through the many pages of your first annual, it will be a revue, recalling to you a year of the new and the different, a time of change, readjustment and revitalization. Already having passed the gruelling test as frosh, the sophomores will view the panorama of scenes that narrates the story of your avid activity. For this year has established the fact that your fine reputation as ardent and diligent supporters of St. Mary's was indeed well-earned. As actors and actresses in "The Class of '65," a fitting successor to the season's hit, the juniors have eagerly made preparations for the time when they would become the leaders of the student body. This revue reflects the countless successful achievements which proved your ability as reputable leaders.

It is the stars who were cast in "The Class of 1964," a smash hit program which is finally leaving the air after running for four consecutive seasons. "The Class of 1964" is probably one of the best all-time greats ever televised at SMHS-TV. We view our last season with mixed emotions of joy and sadness: the joy of accomplishment, the sadness of imminent departure. When we first entered St. Mary's in 1960, we played the role of raw, green frosh who were total strangers to one another, to the school, and to ourselves, each with an untapped reservoir of gifts and talents. Time passes with the change of scene as we see how we have used our individual talents at work, at study and at play. Because of our separate contributions to the whole, we have become a united class, fused by bonds of friendship and fellowship. Not only have we advanced as a class, but each of us has developed and matured by giving and sharing in a spirit of generosity.

Now at the brink of independence, we preview the unknown future. Drawing from the reservoir of new wealth that we have accumulated at St. Mary's, each one of us will again have an important role to play as an invaluable part of another world's drama. For whatever lies ahead, we are ready. For we leave St. Mary's as Christians and as scholars, strengthened with the grace of God and prepared now to assume our role in the affairs of the world. We possess the talents; we must use them wisely. We must continue to enrich all that we have so generously been given, so that each one of us may become a person proud of the part he has played and deserving of his rewards.

With "Panorama '63-'64" as a remembrance of the glorious past and as a reminder of a brilliant future, let us venture out boldly remembering:

What we are is a gift from God;
What we become is our gift to God.

DEDICATION

We affectionately dedicate Cauldron '64 to you, Sister Maria, who have been the diligent moderator of the Cauldron for four years. It is in gratitude that we present this yearbook to you who have instilled in us the principles of Christian belief by your kind guidance, inspiration, and assistance.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

ONE ASTUTE MODERN WRITER warns that the real danger of our technological age is not so much that machines will begin to think like men, but that men will begin to think like machines—that machine-oriented thinking will dominate us to the exclusion of morality, of conscience, of value-judgments.

WE HAVE WATCHED with a kind of fascinated horror this creeping "dehumanization of man" spread its mechanized tentacles through nearly every phase of life. People are no more; they are serial numbers. Each person is a row of digits: a case number, a bank account number, a dog tag number, a zip code number, a social security number. Technology can boast of efficiency but little else.

EDUCATION PROBLEMS TODAY, like the hordes of students, waiting in line to register, are enormous. Off the assembly line they come, not in hundreds but thousands, mass-produced, nondescript, homogenized, compelled by a system to conformity in subject and treatment. The pupil of a mechanized school is an IBM card punched full of holes.

His brains are measured by standard scores; his personality and tastes are catalogued like a seed list; his knowledge is fed into him electronically. Achievement is less a matter of personal accomplishment than maintaining national averages and fulfilling statistics and predictions. Greater recognition goes to the scholar who spews out complex answers like a computer than to the plodding "average" pupil with a solid gold character. So go the trends of progress . . .

CAULDRON 1964 PICTURES St. Mary's in action. The goals of the SM educative process are still pretty old-fashioned but at least right-side-up. With us the individual persons and their very personal blend of talent, ability and attractiveness still hold the upper hand. These students are not identical kernels of corn on a cob, nor even look-alike sheep in a flock. They are distinct individual persons, each endowed with a unique set of values, tastes and emotions. And the most magnificent possession of all is their personal conscience.

IT IS A TIRING RESISTANCE we wage against the tide of dehumanization. But we are convinced that, long after every little red, green or amber light will have blinked out on each computer in the land, the one fact that matters will be: how did each person fulfill his God-given purpose in life? For, after all, it is precisely because he is responsible for his actions that a person has dignity and worth.

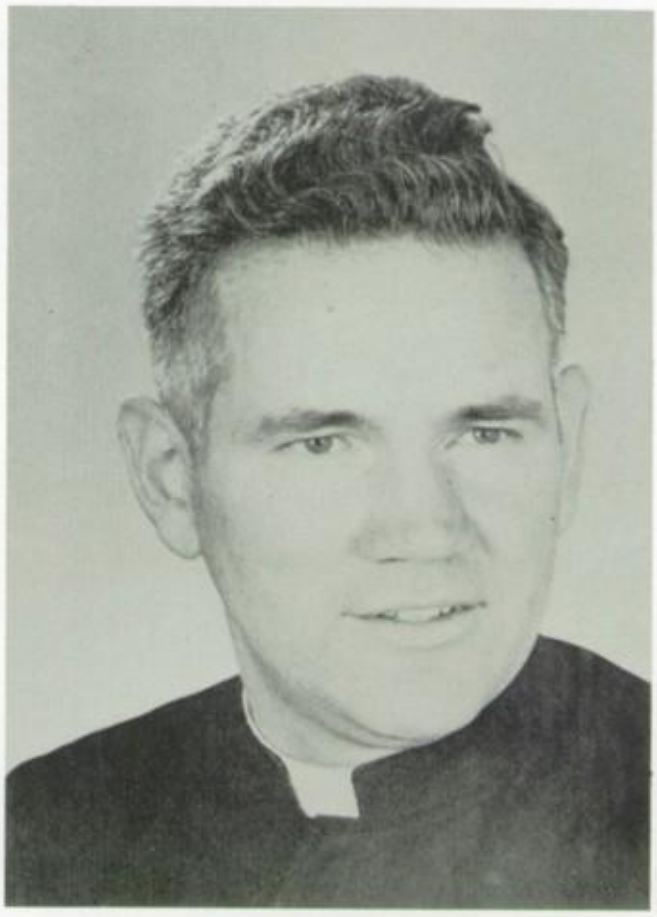
SCHOOL BOARD

The School Board of the Diocese of Stockton under the direction of Monsignor Mark J. Hurley, superintendent of schools administers to all of the grammar schools in the area, as well as to St. Mary's, the only Catholic high school in the diocese. The School Board, in only its second year, is still in its testing and development stages. We students at St. Mary's feel fortunate to have such an efficient board directing our efforts.

HIS EXCELLENCY, BISHOP HUGH A. DONAHOE



MONSIGNOR MARK J. HURLEY, Ph.D.
Superintendent of Schools

FACULTY

Sister Mary Rose, vice-principal.

Inspiring priests and nuns, dedicated lay teachers comprise St. Mary's unique faculty who under the direction and inspiration of our vice-principal, Sister Rose, strive to form competent Christian citizens. Each teacher at St. Mary's devotes himself to the imparting of truth and the cultivating of an appreciation of beauty in the world around us. To these members of our production staff we owe our deepest gratitude.

The leading roles were played this year by: Gene Giometti, treasurer; Marilyn Munoz, secretary; Dennis Minahen, president; Didi Dwyer, vice-president; William Sanguinetti, sergeant-at-arms.

HUSTLERS SAY:

Enthusiasm is the foundation of all man-made wonders; hustle . . . drive.

Patrick Deibert

Anticipation is looking ahead to better things while still looking behind with satisfaction at goals attempted and achieved; excitement plus hope; fear plus anxiety.

Virginia Hults

Loyalty is a reason for doing; an example of loving.

Virginia Hults

Thoughts in preview . . .

The graduating class of 1964 completes high school, holds diplomas, remembers yesterdays at St. Mary's; they eagerly await tomorrows but often forget that tomorrows come only after the sun sets on many todays and the moon shines on more tonights.

Karen Duffy

Hustlers feel a mounting, an intangible, satisfaction as graduation approaches. We have reached the maturity of self-approbation, yet, paradoxically, we sense a restlessness. We are far from unique as we come to realize that life's real struggle lies ahead.

Jean Serra

Four years of work are behind us; many years of work face us. The prospect of independent living is proximate. We are willing to step up to life, yet we hang back in the shelter of adolescence. Maturity must be accomplished; it is desirable, yet we tremble.

Michael Overfield

Time is drawing short; graduation is near. The thought brings satisfaction and relief. We are apt to think our task complete, but let us not close our eyes to as yet unforeseen events, unrealized goals which now lie dormant to our vision. Are we ready with inquisitive minds to meet the future challenge?

Patrick Deibert

Football games, basketball games, track meets, chocolate drives, homecomings, paper drivers, boxing carnivals . . . Neanderthal man, Cicero, Virgil, Archimedes . . . four years of whirlwind activities, new experiences, successes and failures, endless days of lecture notes, examinations, homework. Now we leave St. Mary's to make a beginning.

Barbara Green

Our work is done; we know it all; we led the school! Let us pause; have we made an end? We make many ends but our paths turn full-circle . . . another beginning follows every finish.

Judy Martin

From opening night on . . .

Four years of dedication to class advancement have developed a class of Hustlers . . . a spirit of satisfaction has prevailed through past endeavors . . . united efforts have made us a unique group in the spread of enthusiasm . . . success is our achievement; all of us have had our share, done our part for the class of '64.

Edwin Campion

Mistakes, even the best classes make mistakes! Often embarrassing, frequently erring, yes . . . but we have been "in it together," sharing the blame and the laughter and the glory of it all.

Susan Damos

Seniors married to an ideal . . . the spirit of generosity, cooperation, loyalty. Some sue for divorce; some for separation; others, proud sons and daughters, embrace their love, their lifestream . . . wholeheartedly, passionately . . . gems of maturity.

JUNIOR CLASS

Junior class officers: Anthony Lucaccini, sergeant-at-arms; Ann Graham, secretary; Peter Robustelli, president; Patricia Boyle, vice-president; James Martin, treasurer.

A YEAR PASSED

With the vision of college life or of careers in the business world looming before us, we began our junior year full of determination to take advantage of the academic opportunities that St. Mary's offers. As the weeks began to pass, we found ourselves faced with test upon test. There were National Merit tests, scholarship aptitude tests, vocational preference tests, Mathematical Association of America tests, National French tests, and many, many more for us to endure. But, aside from attempting to achieve high academic averages in our tests, we strove to retain the knowledge we had acquired. We studied, not merely for the sake of meriting a grade on a test; we studied "to know."

Realizing that activities are a necessary and integral part of our school life, we made every effort to develop that spirit and enthusiasm which had to characterize us now as upperclassmen of the school. The challenges of float preparations, chocolate drive organizing, paper drive exhaustion and prom planning were successfully met and won.

And now, we look forward to another year of opportunity to know and to become.

Kathleen Antonucci, '65

BECOMING SENIORS

Determination — It is never giving up when you once start for a goal.

Pamela Paul

It is the dedication to complete a task, whether enjoyable or distasteful, for the good of everyone or oneself.

Antoinette Podesto

Success — It is the achievement of one's desired goals, which brings a sense of satisfaction.

Linda Periera

It is the reward for doing your job in the best possible way.

Linda Luis

Responsibility — It is the realization, personal acceptance and unselfish execution of duties which benefit the majority.

Kathleen Antonucci

It is a sign af maturity.

Teresita Abad

Success — It is the reward for doing "your part," for only after a difficult job is done with determination is a person a success.

Donald Isetti

Loyalty — It is a sincere devotion to a person or an organization which involves willingness to help at all times.

Joseph Hermosillo

It is the necessary ingredient for friendship.

Charlene Bassarik

Cooperation — It is knowing there is someone on your side.

Kathleen Antonucci

It is working with others for the benefit of everyone.

Kathleen Abdallah

Anticipation — It is eagerness for the outcomes of our determined efforts.

Mary Ann Gilbeau

SOPHOMORE CLASS

"TO BE, OR NOT TO BE?"

"To be, or not to be?" What a question! And to our class it means much because we have much. Our class has ambition to study, but often when we choose the "to be" and try to follow that course of study, we get slipshod in our ways and proceed "not to be."

Math does not present too great a problem and would be much easier if it were possible to change the answer by an opinion. For the most part, we enjoy languages and have fun with them.

On the whole, our class knows of what we are capable, and jumps at every opportunity "to be" the persons we are expected to be.

Tina Fanucchi, '66.

Loyal — showing the trust, esteem and love which we have for St. Mary's by being faithful to our class and to the school, cooperating with other classes, respecting our teachers, doing our schoolwork honestly, and taking the side of the green and white against any criticism; proving that we are happy to be a part of St. Mary's by cheering at games, working on school projects, promoting school interest, and proudly representing our school wherever we go.

Responsible — having that quality which enables us to respond and to do the proper thing in a fitting manner at the right time, to the best of our ability; necessary quality possessed when we act as mature persons; it enables us to do our job well, to be always trustworthy, and to accept those duties accompanying certain privileges.

Determined — being resolute in the spirit which pushes us on to realize our ambitions; to get the best out of our education; to develop a character of integrity; to learn by our mistakes; and to get good grades.

Successful — a goal which is our main incentive for studying or working on other projects; a deserved reward for hard work to attain good grades, college acceptance; the winning score of a big game; a well-written composition; breaking a bad habit which gives us a good feeling because we have done well.

Cooperative — a quality required of all students to get the highest benefits from work and projects; an indication of our readiness to get along with others when we obey rules, proctors, teachers, help fellow-students, work with others for the same goal, and participate actively in club projects.

Anticipating — thinking ahead, often about something unpleasant such as final report cards, the results of tests in which we did not do well, unprepared Latin, or the aftermath of a summons; more often, about a big dance, about the paper drive, about no homework, which, though usually nerve-wracking, builds up a defense against forthcoming bad things and a welcome for good ones, or about summer vacation.

FRESHMAN CLASS

A YEAR OF REALIZATION

When we entered St. Mary's as freshmen, we were stepping into a new world of education. We realized that we must want to learn in order to succeed. There was no one pushing us; we were on our own. We found scholastic competition here that we had never experienced in grade school, and we had to apply ourselves with a new energy to our studies.

We discovered certain talents which we possessed, and it was up to us to develop these talents. A failure in this responsibility would seriously affect our future. It was most important that we did not become discouraged. Though this first year was difficult, it was a time for us to become settled in this new form of studies. We soon realized that our freshman year was to lead to an enjoyable high school life.

Craig Comartin, '67.

PASSING THOUGHTS

Pushing ever forward, we, the Pacesetters, have the courage to say that we are going to miss the Hustlers tyrannical oppression. After ten eons of years, we have to give up bowing to the authority of the seniors. Throughout the year, their sceptre has urged us on, on, on. And now, bit by bit, we have become recognized as members of the human race.

All too soon, June has come upon us. The memories of such a marvelous year will never fade away because youth does not wish to be isolated from a lifetime. Growth demands experience through participation. It is just a pity that the jovial times we have had and will have have to pass away.

Stephanie Sperling, '67.

MEMORABLE WORDS

A freshman is young, but not so young and mindless as initiation would have one believe. A freshman is capable of formulating ideas and ideals. Why, many of a freshman's thoughts are practical and ambitious. For instance, the freshman meaning of words:

determination — is to earn good grades in Latin; not to miss any homework; to get the best of school in the four years before graduation; to prove that a freshman has a goal and is willing to work toward it.

responsibility — is that which counts a great deal in school life. It means much to a freshman, like picking up papers, doing homework, keeping promises and living up to Mother's expectations.

loyalty — is wonderful. There is no feeling quite like the emotion one has while cheering at the game or completing a school project. Loyalty fills a person until one is practically swept away. Loyalty is urging the team on to fight in a losing game. Loyalty is caring for the school. Loyalty is singing the Alma Mater. Loyalty is stressed at St. Mary's above all because it is one of the most noble feelings possible in man. Simply, loyalty is love.

cooperation — is necessary with friends and teachers alike. Freshmen think of cooperation in terms of rules, progress, school, contests and support. The freshmen have come to understand that friends are not always present and that cooperation is necessary in working with all.

anticipation — is wondering what questions Sister will give in the test. It is wondering if we will pass the test. Anticipation is an appointment with a teacher next period. It is waiting for lunch, and it is one minute until final announcements.

success — is final. It contains the five previous definitions, yet it is something much more. It is "A" on a test and straight 1-1's on a report card. Perhaps it is having an obscure point in algebra made suddenly clear, or maybe it is coming through with an assignment. It is the triumph of a first year's victory won.

The senators, who are chosen from among the junior and senior boys at St. Mary's, keep discipline and order at all school functions and during the regular school day. The senate members have the authority to summon any student for infractions of school rules.

St. Mary's is indebted to the senate, under the direction of Father Brian, its moderator, for the good order that prevails at all school activities. This organization has recently received the honor of having its president become a student body officer. Under the guidance of Dennis Troute, the outgoing president, the members of this group, rather than imposing the somewhat strict penalties of the past on student offenders, have endeavored to encourage respect for and obedience to school rules by their own example.

OFFICERS
J. VanderVennet, S. Piscitelli, J. O'Meara, moderator Father Brian, G. Giometti, D. Troute.

GIRLS' CABINET

Eighteen senior girls, representing the best in good grooming and school spirit, comprise St. Mary's Girls' Cabinet. These girls promote high standards in dress and behavior by their good example and, at times, by issuing summons to offenders who are then required to make a court appearance. The aim of the Cabinet is to help in the formation of truly Christian women who will demonstrate to their associates the art of proper conduct on all occasions.

OFFICERS
Moderator Sister Bonaventure, S. Caufield, R. Cortopassi, E. Scuitti, G. Galvez, Moderator Sister Elaine.

CURRICULAR AWARDS

Tina Fanucchi placed first in the Lion's Club Student Speaker Contest. Gerry Estrada and Jim Armstrong took second in the same competition.

Kathy Lagorio placed second in a national essay contest, winning a $300 scholarship. The title of the composition was "Individual Responsibility and the American Revolution for Rights."

Mike Overfield and Dennis Minahen were St. Mary's representatives in the Bank of America scholarship competition.

Willie Wallace was S. M.'s highest scorer in the challenging test given by the Mathematics Association of America. Two other top scores were Marty Hogue and Tim Osterdock.

John O'Meara was the only S.M. National Merit finalist.

Virginia Yang, Linda Luis, and Ann Graham were chosen to participate in a Chemistry test given by Sacramento Section of the American Chemical Society.

Frank Sousa and Alfred Dentone make last minute calculations for their science project which received an award in the Modesto Science Fair.

The active and enthusiastic participation in the singing of the fight songs and of the Alma Mater which concluded every rally and assembly program this year is due to the Varsity and J.V. songleaders who have developed splendid and novel dance routines.

The Varsity cheerleaders completely outdid themselves in an effort to induce the students to cheer loudly and strongly. The cheerleaders for the J.V. teams, who were chosen from freshmen and sophomores this year, spent long hours of practice which provided them with the assurance they needed to executive their routines with precision and accuracy.

The four boys, who composed the newly organized yell - squad, devised ingenious methods to inspire activity among the students. Many of their assembly yells have been accompanied by hilarious skits, such as the unforgettable rendition, of the Cockroaches, which jollied the audience into yelling with such force that the bleachers shook, the baskets rattled, the faculty was deafened and the coach encouraged.

No wonder St. Mary's teams feel the forceful backing of the students. Such leaders as are in these groups are not usually found in such abundance.

PEP CLUB

The clever card stunts performed by the Pep Club members in their bright, new green and white jackets are a happy innovation at the S.M. games and rallies.

The club has been reorganized and revitalized this year to include only those members who would promote the most spirit at school activities.

Congratulations, president Frank Souza and moderators Sister Edward and Mrs. Santos!

SODALITY

Sodality officers A. Perino, treasurer; M. Munoz, president; J. McDonald, vice-president; T. Valverde, secretary, confer with Moderator Sister Edward.

Wrapping Christmas gifts for underprivileged children are T. Fanucchi, M. Cortopassi, V. Starkey, A. Graham, A. Loechler, M. Meza, R. Cortopassi, and K. Craig.

S. West, J. Torlai, S. DeCicco, and J. Basso are enjoying their work at Hy-Pana House, a rest home.

The Sodality, one of the most active clubs at St. Mary's, has set an example this year for everyone to follow. The girls sponsored a very successful Thanksgiving canned goods drive for the benefit of underprivileged families here in Stockton. At Christmas time, the members urged the whole school to "play Santa Claus" for children of these same families, and the response of the student body was unusually gratifying.

Each sodalist participates in the activities of the Mission, Liturgical, Apostolic or Christian Life Committees, in addition to monthly holy hours and daily prayers. In this way the work of the Church is carried on by means of the work and prayers of each member of the Sodality.

S. Caufield, S. Fitzgearl, K. Kolander, S. Buettner, S. Zuniga, and C. Oneto display toys donated by the student body.

Choosing presents for poor children are P. Dougherty, H. Sust, M. Franco, P. Rubia, and L. Trone.

In response to a call — Y. C. S. Officers B. Menking, F. Souza, M. Ubaldi, M. Torney, J. McDonald, G. Hogue. These students take the responsibility for the planning and organizing of the St. Mary's Y.C.S. section.

Boys can be serious too — when students such as this group of juniors become aware of the world's need for them.

Boy and girl Y.C.S. members cooperated in organizing another tremendously successful study weekend here at S.M. Both S.M. Y.C.S.'ers and those who traveled from the Bay Area remarked favorably about the excellent program of lectures and discussion topics offered at the conferences. All who attended agree that they profited much from all facets of the weekend.

In addition, the Young Christian Students have continued to permeate the student world with the "Christ" spirit through their actions here at school, in parish activities and in the community as a whole.

PERCUSSION SECTION
M. Reilly, T. Hackett, J. Tolley, L. Root, C. Lockheed.

Who are those distinguished looking persons in trim black suits? Why, the band members in their new concert uniforms! This outstanding organization is under the direction of Mr. Malcolm Stone, who has instilled renewed vitality into our band.

A highlight of the school year, the Hootenanny, was an overwhelming success sponsored by the band. The annual band frolic, geared to top entertainment for each and every member of the family, received praises galore.

Aside from these two major activities, our band aroused tremendous spirit and enthusiasm at rallies and games. All S.M. students wholeheartedly agree that we owe three cheers to our band and Mr. Stone.

WOODWIND SECTION

It has often been remarked that behind every successful stage production works a dedicated staff whose labor is absolutely indispensable. In the wings and behind the scenes are the unsung stars of the production.

Under the leadership of Father Conal, the S.M. production staff works untiringly to provide the sound, lighting and music, the actual heart and core of hundreds of activities. Little acknowledgement is ever given for their work in staging rallies, assemblies, meetings and religious endeavors.

The fruits of this year's labor reached a peak in the presentations of three highly acclaimed dramatic productions and the annual operetta, "Paint Your Wagon."

KNIGHTS OF THE ALTAR

1st row: B. Dorsch, R. McLaughlin, M. Mekjavich, C. Arena, A. Lovato. 2nd row: G. Hakeem, T. Osterdock, D. Mangili, S. Castellanos, R. Dangaran, Father Conal.

The great privilege and honor of serving the priest as he consecrates the sacrifice of the Mass is equally shared by each member of the Knights of the Altar. This organization has been responsible for the beautiful presentation of each religious activity throughout the year and provides a server for the morning Masses in the student chapel and for the First Friday Masses for the entire student body. Each of the members share an equal responsibility in keeping the chapel immaculately clean and in performing the tasks assigned to the sacristan. Most important, however, is their privilege of being close to Christ in the Blessed Sacrament.

GIRLS' GLEE

1st row: Mr. Sousa, C. Wilkinson, N. Miller, M. Eggett, M. Monahan, P. Silva, J. Pinkham, G. Hogue, L. Alcaraz, R. Miller. 2nd row: J. Mandolati, K. Simanaro, K. Watt, E. Burke, O. Precissi, D. The Girls' Glee entertains the student body with selections from various musicals under the direction of Mr. Sousa. In addition to performing here at St. Mary's, the girls have been requested to sing at social functions, and they have donated their profits from these shows to charity.

FUTURE NURSES

Dreams of white caps and exciting days in surgery unite the aspiring Clara Bartons who are organized as the Future Nurses Club at S.M. This club provides opportunities for its members to hear guest speakers, to participate in tours of local health departments and to engage in practical experience at the hospitals.

HISTORY CLUB

The History Club of St. Mary's is an organization for students who enjoy delving into the past of mankind. Many interesting projects have been undertaken by the members of the club this year.

A field trip to San Francisco provided a first-hand acquaintance with various historic landmarks of the city. Members have raised money for a file cabinet which was donated to the history department of the school. In order to help students develop a broad academic and cultural background, a book is given to the library each semester by the History Club members.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club, a junior counterpart of the Kiwanis Club, is an organization that devotes its efforts to doing service for the school. These boys operate the refreshment stand at football games. The members participate in community projects by assisting the Kiwanis Club at book sales and pancake breakfasts given for the purpose of raising funds for charity.

G.A.A.

G.A.A. OFFICERS
J. DeCristofaro, vice-president; H. Doneux, corresponding secretary; N. Buccellato, president; S. West, secretary-treasurer; moderators Sister Rita and Mrs. Santos.

The girls of G.A.A. have proven that they have a good share of St. Mary's school spirit. The Mardi Gras dance, cake sales, raffles and other fund-raising projects were a great success because of the efforts of these girls. Coached by Mrs. Santos, the G.A.A. girls have developed good sportsmanship in stiff competition with other schools, and while playing, they always manage to have much fun.

G.A.A., the largest club at S.M., holds regular bi-weekly meetings.

The constantly buzzing clubhouse which houses the Rams' letter-winning athletes has been literally bulging at the seams with new ideas, innovations and new members throughout the current school year. The customary wild, winter initiation introduced the year's activities. Members of the previous spring's sports, in addition to the footballers, were the victims of many a zany escapade. In addition, J.V. lettermen were admitted to membership, but were first subjected to a few minor "stipulations."

Various annual activities included the winter snow trip, the highly successful Block S.M. dance and the year end party. The newest project introduced into the curriculum was a benefit basketball exhibition featuring the famed Harlem Clowns, hardcourt cut-ups. Under the guidance of Moderator Mr. "Stub" Hoellwarth and President Gene Giometti, the Clowns' contest was a fitting climax to a prosperous Block S.M. year.

Block SM sponsored a game between the hilariously funny Harlem Clowns and the Delta All-Stars in the SM gym.

1st row: Coach Hoellwarth, H. Calad, S. Piscitelli, G. Giometti, R. Garcia, C. Piazza, D. Troute, F. Scholl. 2nd row: R. Guidi, B. Carruesco, M. Ratto S. Clements, R. Delgado, S. Garcia, P. FUTURE TEACHERS

Inspired by Sister Peter Damian, ambitious students who plan to enter the teaching profession learn about the rewards and responsibilities of their desired profession. These students visit various elementary schools and observe the handling of younger pupils by experienced teachers. Eager to gain some experience for themselves, members of the tutoring committee are always ready to assist lagging students with their studies. The Future Teachers are already preparing for a good position in the instructional field.

LATIN CLUB

Last year the Latin Club raised over one-hundred dollars which was donated to our school library to buy books. This year, by means of sales and dues, our organization worked towards raising money for an overhead projector for the use of St. Mary's language department. These generous yearly contributions distinguish the Latin Club as one of St. Mary's most active groups.

1st row: Officers—S. Lechich, B. Green, Sister Vincent Ferrer, moderator; M. Overfield, C. La Croix. 2nd row: V. Yang, T. Abad, A. Podesto, K. Antonucci, C. Nahigian, J. McDonald.

Moderator Mr. Brewer, D. Caywood, R. Dangaran, F. Sousa, R. Calderon, B. DeGroot, D. McCoy, R. Rodriguez, B. Daly, M. Bilcharz.

CHESS CLUB

Some of the more intellectual of St. Mary's students who like to spend their afternoons contemplating a serious game of chess are organized into the Chess Club. Members of this club compete with other schools and have gained a reputation for themselves as formidable opponents.

The Parents' Club is a prime example of what the combined efforts of an interested faculty and a cooperative group of parents are able to accomplish for a school. The fathers and mothers of St. Mary's students have united for three successful years to foster student activities and to finance many school projects.

OFFICERS

Mrs. Precissi, recording secretary; Mr. Robustelli, president; Mrs. Campion, vice-president; Mrs. Oneto, financial secretary. Not pictured: Mr. Stagnaro, treasurer.

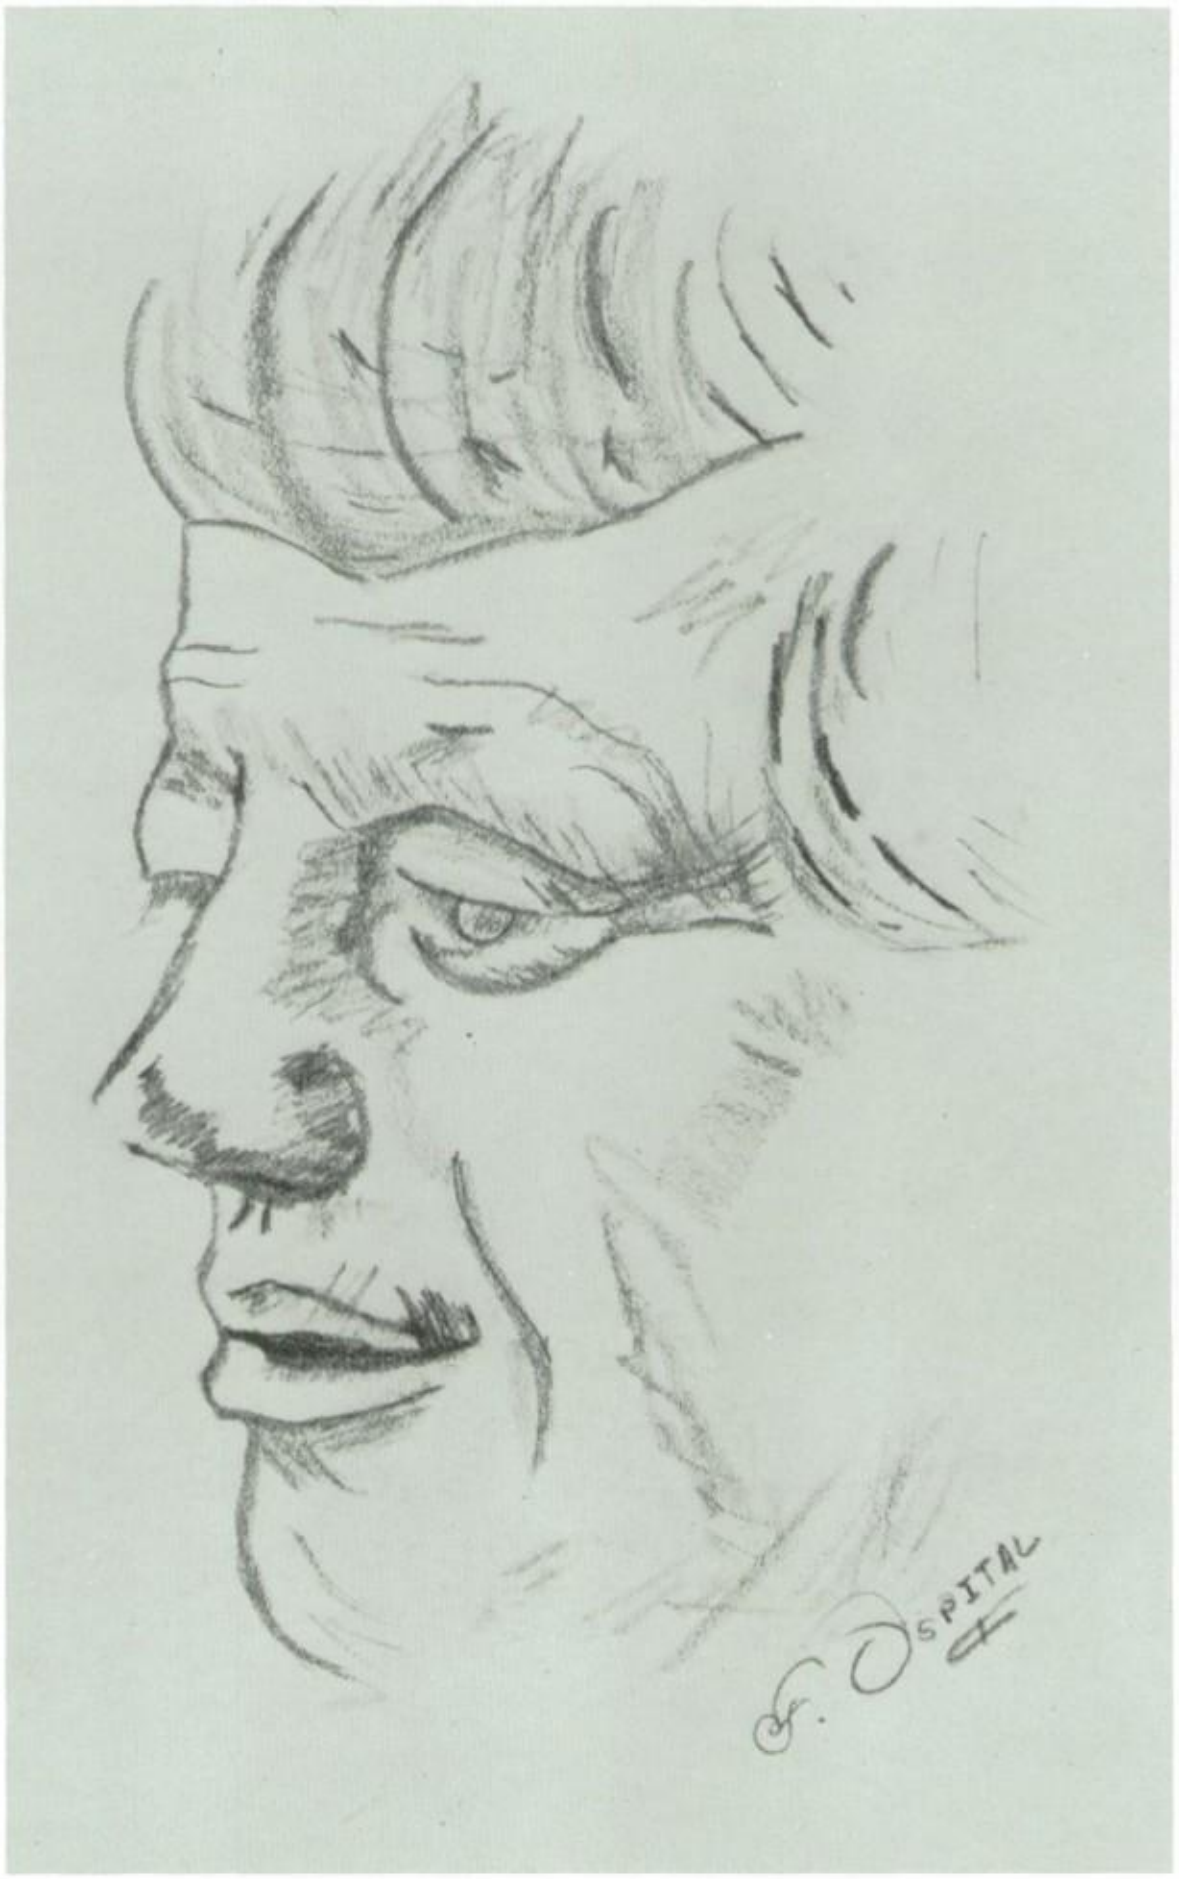
PARENTS' CLUB

Parents enjoy themselves at the annual dance, Bells of St. Mary's, which was held at the Civic Auditorium in January.

IN MEMORIAM



A MOST NOBLE MAN

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, most gallant a man
Was loved by all persons, no matter what land.
His life was aimed at his country's need;
His nation's hunger he strived to feed.
His words flowed forth as a symphony;
Fine convictions stood by in harmony
With spirit so good and virtues so high,
No mortal had thoughts of the day he would die.
But then came a man, who soundness did lack;
A rifle he aimed at our president's back.
The shot rang out with the wrath of a bear;
And afterwards, sadness was felt in the air.
Some men spoke with anger, and some spoke with fear;
All dreaded the chance to lose one so dear.
Then on that dark day, the news report said:
We regret our beloved leader is dead.
Quickly a suspect was seized in a town—
Lee Harvey Oswald, a man not renowned.
Assassin was he? He firmly denied.
Yet proof did reveal that he may have lied.
Short time had this man to save his black soul,
For a bullet for him, would soon find its goal.
Then John Fitzgerald was rushed to his home
To lie in the mighty White House dome.
Great men of the earth, with honor and fame
Had come to pay homage to this great man's name.
At his funeral service the whole world seemed quiet;
So harshly deprived, we wished to deny it.
As his casket was lowered and placed in the ground,
The silence was hardly disturbed by a sound.
This man who fought sorrow with laughter and mirth
No longer was able to walk on the earth.
Yes, God makes great men, for surely He can.
But never had He made more noble a man.

Frank Catanio, '67.

SPECIALS

FRESHMAN

It is surprising what some freshman girls will do for attention.

The seniors gave the freshmen a hectic time.

Among the members of the Class of '67 a few professional ballerinas were found.

DO YOU REMEMBER, FROSH?

"Almighty senior, to thee I bow." "Louder!" "Upon this ground right here and now." "Put more feeling into it!' These were the cries heard amidst the confusion, turmoil, and clamor on Freshman Hat Day.

Those peculiar creatures that came in so many different varieties and odd-shaped forms were really our beloved freshmen. No one had any trouble recognizing a senior, for they were the red people in charge of the pandemonium.

After two long weeks of green-beanie-wearing, the new frosh were feted at the gala "Buggy Bounce." The gym, decorated with baby carriages, rattles and dolls, provided a gay atmosphere for the closing of a memorable initiation.

The freshman boys wait restlessly for the moment when everything would be over.

HAT DAY

Is this high enough?

Big crowd of what?

The ants are winning.

The Romeos and Juliets perform for the student body.

Is it, or isn't it?

CHOCOLATE DRIVE

Without excellent co-operation and leadership, the stars of '64 could never have made such outstanding sales four years in a row.

St. Mary's has been acclaimed by the World's Finest Chocolate Company as the fastest-selling school in the country! In just one weekend, the all-time high of twenty-four bars per persons was achieved by every class in the school. The seniors of '64 merit well-deserved congratulations for a fourth consecutive win. Their victory exemplifies a self-giving spirit which has been typical of the class throughout their high school years.

It just could be another long night on the paper drive.

To some (teachers and parents!) the time from February 29 to March 25 may have seemed a long one, but to the eager teams of S.M. paper-sellers, it was all too short. Although many hours of work and worry were spent by the frosh-senior and soph-junior teams, the result of working together and learning to know many more of one's fellow-schoolmates was a valuable outcome of the plan of combining classes which was novel this year.

PAPER DRIVE

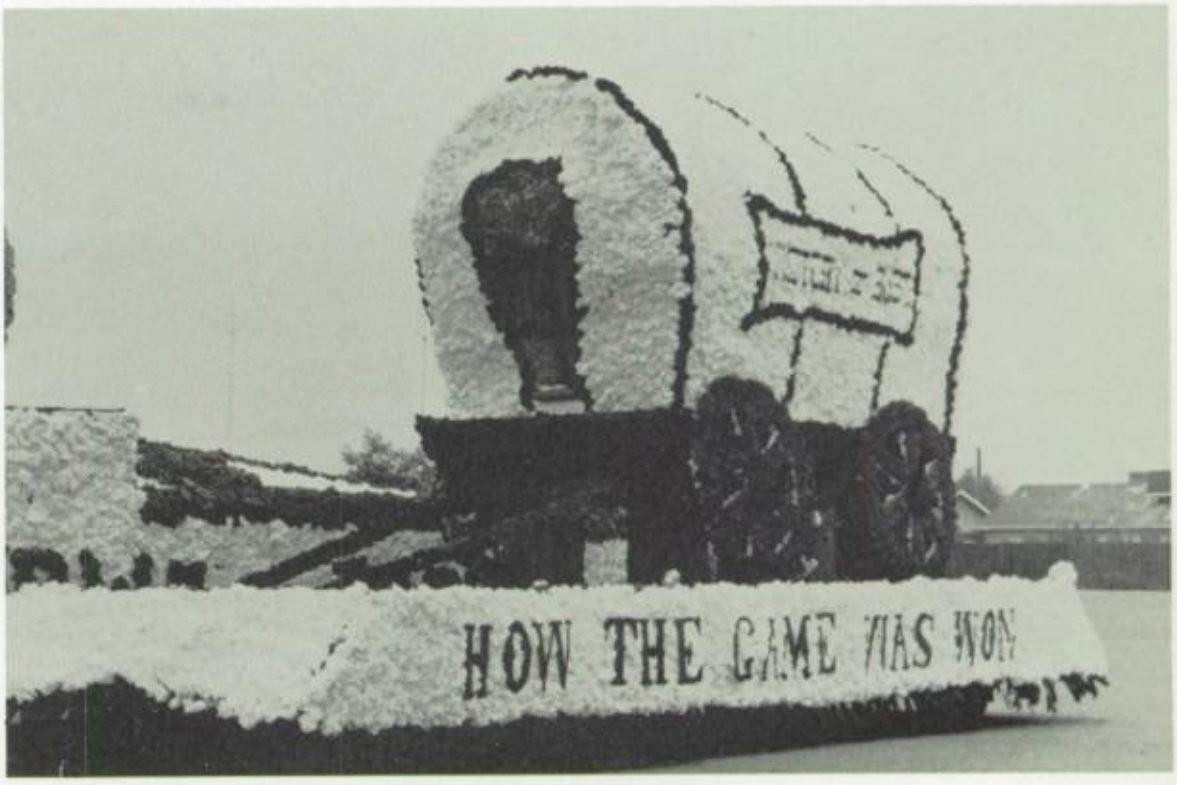
Mr. Gianelli makes his contribution to a worthy cause.

HOMECOMING '63

As the last few Kleenex blossoms were hurriedly attached to the floats, the parade, headed for the "New Frontier," began. Excited students and onlookers crowded along the parade route. Then everyone gathered at the site of the bonfire (too early lit!) and the rally, where Pat Edelman was crowned 1963 Homecoming Queen.

On Friday Pat, her five lovely princesses and their escorts joined the student body in offering Holy Mass. Then the football teams, the coaches, the queen, the princesses and the escorts were feted at a royal luncheon, followed by a royal rally to sustain the spirit for the night's gruelling games with Ceres.

The teams played hard for a win. During the half-time ceremonies, the queen and princesses toured the field followed by the Hustlers' winning float, "Victory or Bust" . . . and victory it was!



The seniors' winning float symbolizes the theme, the "New Frontier."

The queen was honored at the assembly on Friday.

At the homecoming banquet everyone enjoyed themselves.

The Class of '66 contributes its float to the parade.

The juniors worked hard to put together their float.

HER MAJESTY

Princess Cathy Oneto and her escort, Dennis Minahen.

Princess Diane Guadagnolo and her escort, Bill Sanguinetti.

Princess Linda Semenza and her escort, Pat Deibert.

Homecoming Queen Pat Edelman and her escort, Fred Tozi.

Princess Diane Dwyer and her escort, Dick Declusin.

St. Mary's we salute you,

Our Alma Mater true.

Through all the years we'll follow

your name where'er we go.

Princess Nina Elkins and her escort, Dennis Troute.

We've come to know and love you

And want the world to know

That we will keep forever bright

Our trust in the green and white.

DANCES

All of our S.M. dances are organized to provide an opportunity for enjoyment and fun. The frosh Welcome Dance, the Mardi Gras, the Christmas Formal and the Sophomore Dance are among those remembrances of a happy school year.

G.A.A. girls decorate for the annual Mardi Gras while Sister Rita, their co-moderator, smiles approvingly at their ingenuity.

Mary Ellen Leonard and Student Body President Mike smile for a picture.

Tom Farnsworth, leader of the Epics, demonstrates his proficiency at the piano.

"The floor is all yours, Fred!!"

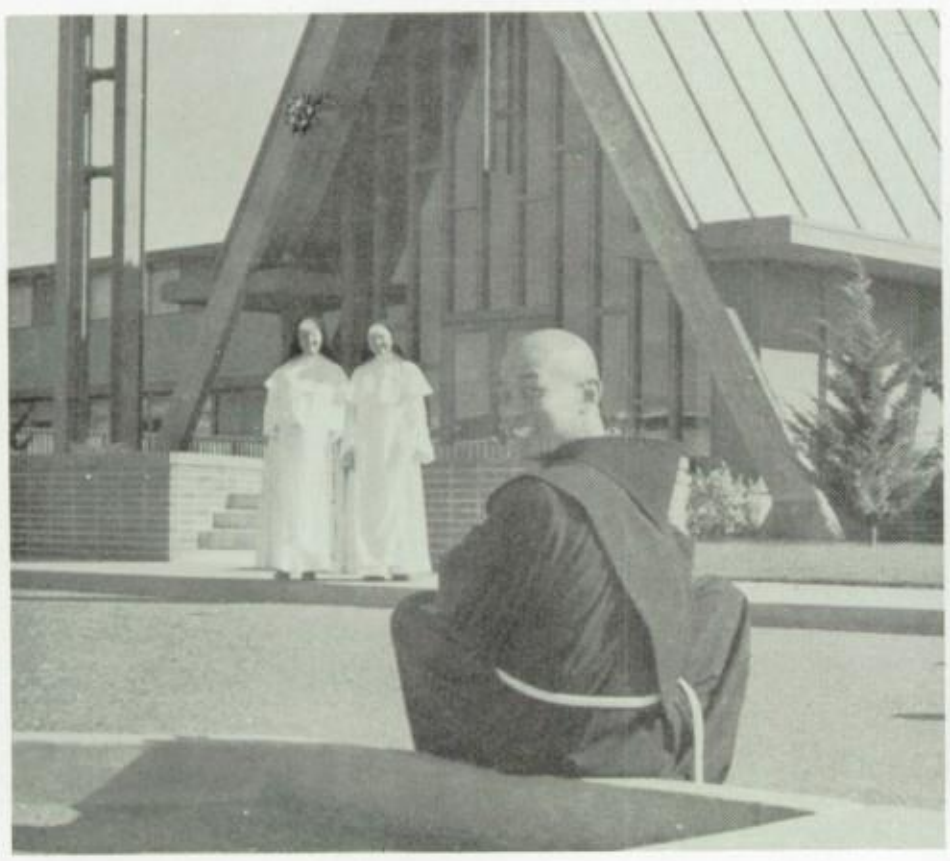
Mrs. Santos, social director, and her husband are popular chaperones at S.M. dances.

SENIOR MEMORIES

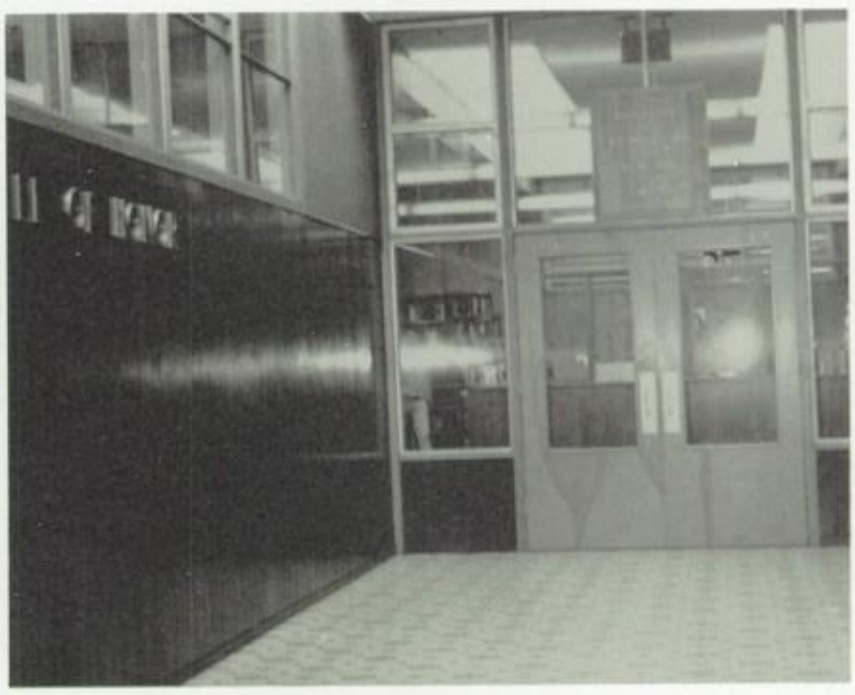
The physically fit senior boys put the finishing touches on the senior walk, a contribution of Seniors '64.

"Testing: one — two . . . What's your favorite sport, girls?" "G—A—A."

Seven forty-five memories are of a campus beginning to awaken.



Seniors remember only the smiling faces of their dedicated administrators and faculty.

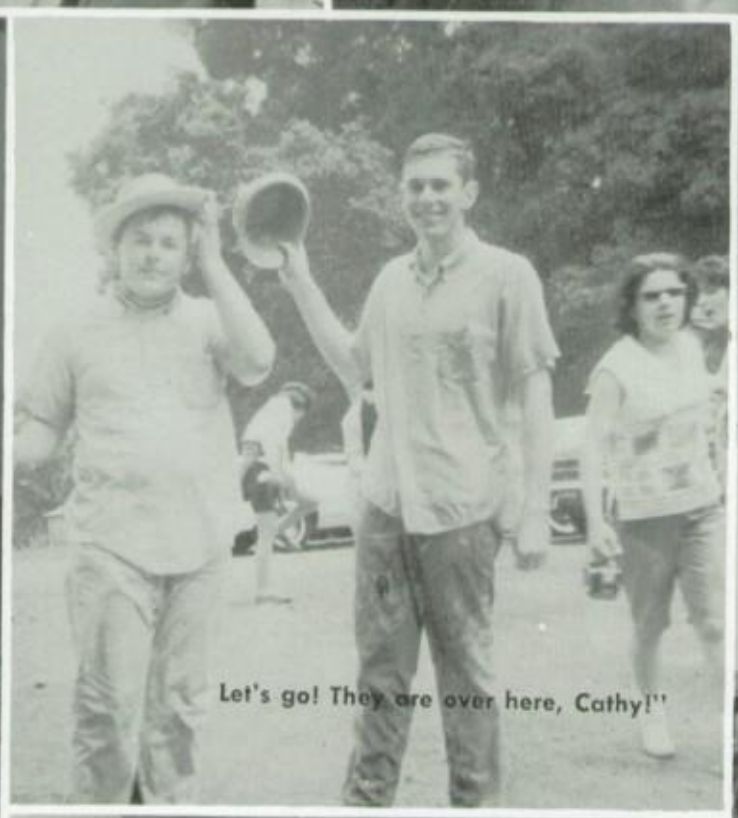


Beautiful white tile, mahogany paneling and trophy cases for outstanding achievement awards comprise the newly-dedicated Hall of Honor at S.M.

Where did G.A.A. pick this one up?

"Do you think Sister Rose had another of those hectic days?"

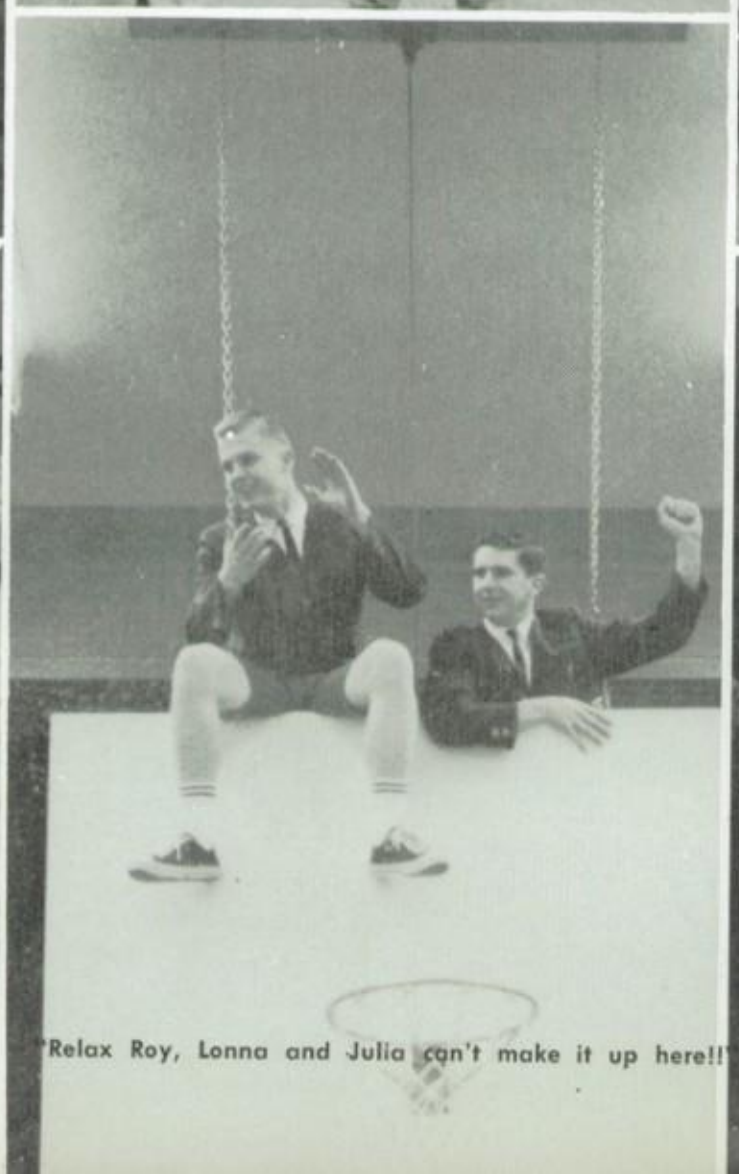
Where's the birdie?



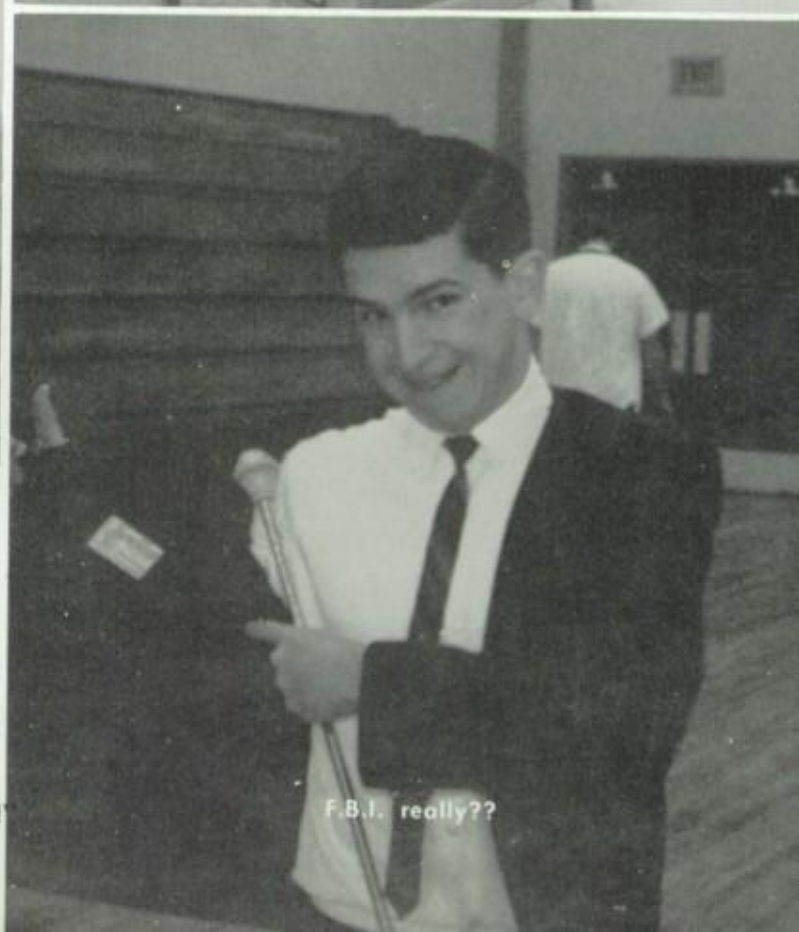
Let's go! They are over here, Cathy!"

Best Teacher Award 1964

Guess whose?



"Relax Roy, Lonna and Julia can't make it up here!!"



F.B.I. really??

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

The last school day of 1963 was highlighted by a Christmas assembly under the capable direction of Sister Francis. The band and a cappella choir performed under the combined leadership of Mr. Stone and Mr. Sousa. Undiscovered talents of many St. Mary's students were revealed in Christmas carols and entertainment. The assembly imparted to the audience the holiday spirit which students and faculty alike carried back into their homes for a happy Christmas.

Four lovely ice-skaters gracefully performed at a colorful entertainment.

The assembly concluded with an impressive Nativity scene which inspired us all with reflections on the true spirit of Christmas.

The ballerina, Lana Jo, and her dolls, Tessie and Kathy.

It is Christmas time at Saint Mary's to the tune of "Deck the Halls."

Old Tom began his yuletide greeting, " 'Twas the night before Christmas."

WITHIN THE HEART

From "Within the Heart of Fashion" stepped the lovely senior girls modeling beautiful spring fashions from Katten-Marengo. Escorted by debonair senior boys, attired in clothes from John Falls, the models showed styles for relaxation, sports, casual and evening wear. Chairman Susan Fleming assisted by Director Diane Guadagnolo, led the senior class who concentrated much work and effort in producing a most successful Cauldron fashion show.

R. Saccone assists V. Yang at the end of the ramp.

Director D. Guadagnolo and her assistant M. Conrady confer while model J. Kurey practices.

After assiduous preparations, Chairman S. Fleming and escort D. Declusion appropriately conclude a delightful evening.

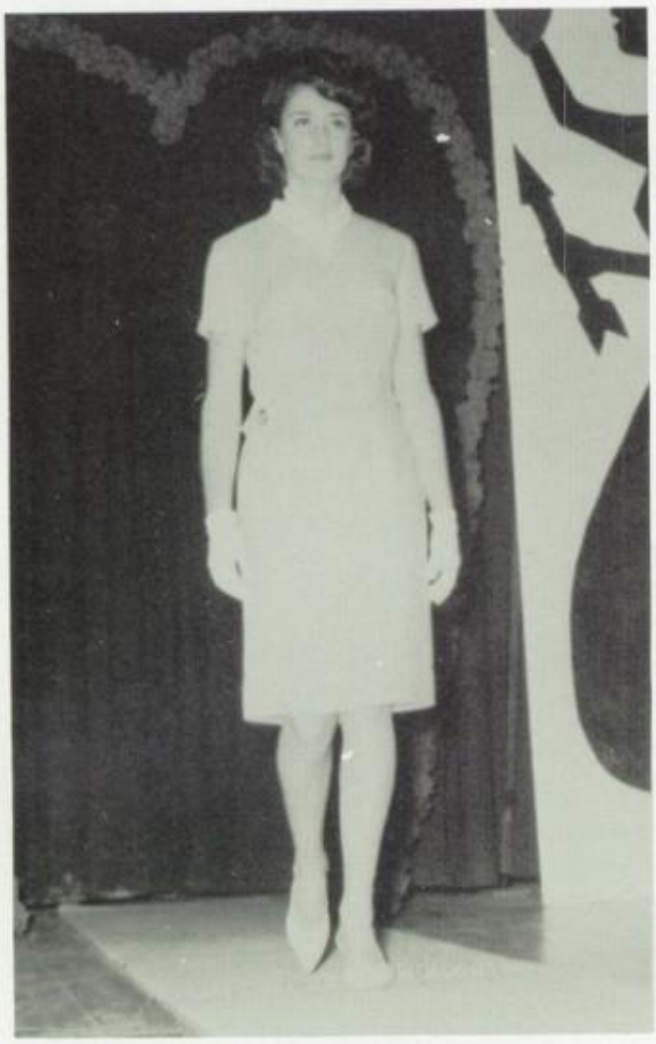
OF FASHION



Jean Serra, decorations chairman, enters through a wire heart covered with red flowers.

Commentators J. McDonald, D. Madrid, and S. Damos.

Muscular senior boys, busily preparing the gym for the fashion show, stop to pose for a picture.

Joan and Dennis, ready for an afternoon tennis date, model the new spring sports fashions.

Anne Patmon models a spring ensemble suitable for Easter.

Ready to receive her guests, Carol Bidondo appears in a green hostess capri set.

RELIGIOUS

The very core and spirit of St. Mary's student life is the faith on which our school is founded. As members of the Mystical Body, the students united to offer Lenten and First Friday Masses. Special "Discussions Days" were held at the close of the first semester to encourage the students to concentrate on and to improve their spiritual lives. A Y.C.S. Study Weekend was held at St. Mary's during the first week of April. Junior and senior students have participated in the new "Search" project, and work in the mission fields was explained by visiting religious and laymen. Every S.M. student is grateful for his unique opportunity to be in an environment where he experiences dedication to producing good Christian citizens.

The altar for student body Mass is placed in the center of the gym so that everyone may have the opportunity of participating more fully in the offering of the Sacrifice.

While Father Emery offers First Friday Mass, Marty Hogue leads the student body in the responses.

Every Friday during Lent, religion classes make the Stations of the Cross.

ACTIVITIES

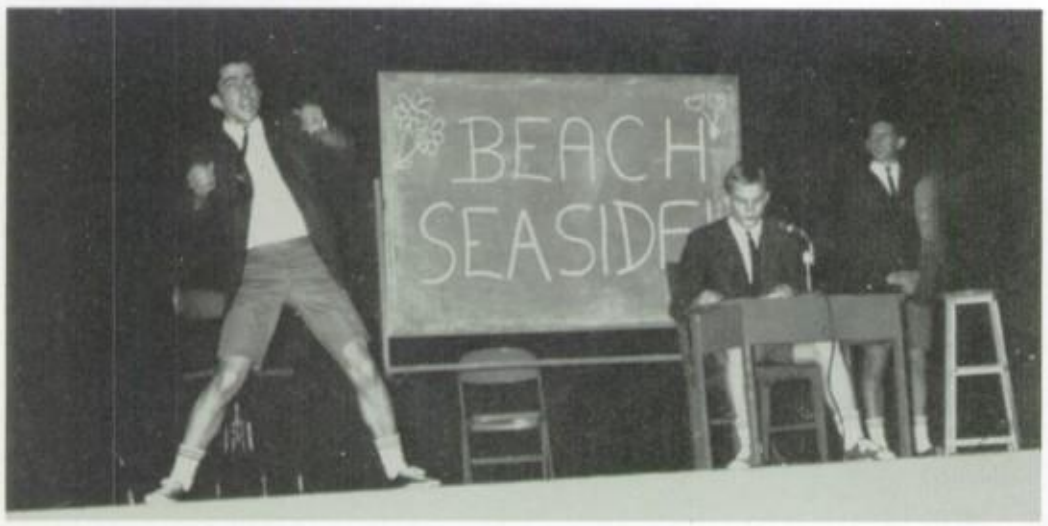
Father Michael gives an inspiring talk to the sophomore and freshman girls during our day of retreat.

Brother Norbett, a Franciscan missionary to the Philippines, visited St. Mary's during a leave of absence and informed us of the missionary work being done among the Filipinos.

Some of the boys' questions are answered by Father Michael.

First Friday Mass gives all students the opportunity to receive the sacrament of Holy Eucharist.

S.M.



Al Dentone leads the student body in a rousing cheer before the Seaside football game.

During an exchange rally, Stagg's yell-leaders aroused the well known S.M. spirit.

A most celebrated group, the Cockroaches, performed for S.M. students until the pesticide crew arrived.

A special highlight of the year was the Hootenanny presented by an excellent group from the University of the Pacific.

Juniors displayed their true sentiments for Lincoln at a pre-game rally.

RALLIES

Any S.M. student can tell you that Saint Mary's rallies were quite unique this year. Surprising everyone, these rallies, under the chairmanship of Tom Farnsworth, rely on unusual means, such as the circus trainers' act, to incite the students to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

The boy cheerleaders who have studied under the direction of University of the Pacific talent have done a marvelous job this year.

Ringmaster Tom Farnsworth livens up the rally with a change in technique.

"Keep on your toes, girls!"

Our songleaders and band rally until the very end.

The student body president of Stagg, Danny Goleman, was welcomed by the students with a friendly rivalry at the exchange rally.

Freshmen and Juniors hang up posters for the rally before a home basketball game with our arch-rivals, Lincoln.

"The Hitchhiker" was done as a radio broadcast.

DRAMA

"SORRY WRONG NUMBER"

Three one-act plays were presented to the St. Mary's student body and to the general public at two performances this year.

"The Hitch-hiker" was done as a radio broadcast, starring Marty Hogue as the announcer, Ronald Adams. Kathy Huff appeared as Mrs. Adams, and Dennis Troute gave an excellent performance as the hitch-hiker.

Marty Hogue again starred in "Fumed Oak" with Kathy Rinker and Kathy Masterman alternating for the two performances as Mrs. Henry Gough.

"Sorry, Wrong Number" illustrated the fine dramatic ability of St. Mary's drama department. Ginger Hults and Ginger George both proved to be splendid actresses, playing the lead role of Mrs. Stevenson.

"Police Department, Precinct 43, Duffy speaking . . ."

"Operator, I've just heard the most dreadful thing. Some poor woman is about to be murdered!"

PLAYS

"FUMED OAK"

"Meanwhile, here's the fifty pounds."

"You look funny!"
"I feel funny!"

"I didn't know then it would take a sight more to kill that leathery old mare."

Director, Mr. Stone, and Assistant, Marty Hogue, relax after a very successful evening with the plays.

BAND FROLIC

March 8 ,1964 was an afternoon and evening of fun and activity for all who participated in the S.M. Band Frolic. The program began at two o'clock with dinner in the cafeteria, then a performance was given by the band in the auditorium. The award for the best skit was made to the Drama Club for their well-executed parody on Christopher Columbus entitled "Chris and His Friends." The evening was concluded by a dance featuring the Epics.

2-4-6-8 who do we tolerate?
Indians! Indians!

Wild Bill hiccups the History Club to a second place.

Tom Farnsworth receives the trophy for the Drama Club performance from Marty Hogue.

The audience takes a "Sentimental Journey" with Albert Giannecchini and Steve DaValle.

"We are the girls from the cabinet . . ."

"PAINT YOUR WAGON"

The unusual scenery of a mining camp setting made "Paint Your Wagon" one of S.M.'s memorable productions. Rehearsals began early in March for Director Mr. Stone and the entire cast who devoted many free-time hours to making this operetta a most successful performance.

The main characters of "Paint Your Wagon" take a break during a long rehearsal.

An entertaining and amazing production was wrought from these scraps of paper.

The versatile Ginger Hultz rehearses her part as Cherry, the head of the Fandango dancers.

Jacob's wives won't seem so devout when they get to Kumson Town.

Listening to experienced speakers on records helps these young thespians to improve their own articulation.

CANDID SNAPSHOTS

"I wouldn't touch you with a ten foot pole!"

"These prom clothes beat everything!"

"Flying papers"

Who took Father Conal's lunch?

"We are the merry mouseketeers!"

"Hey fellas! We've got a monkey on the team."

Please don't hurt me!

JUNIOR—SENIOR PICNIC

As one entered the bloody battlefield of Curry Creek in the midst of an early morning skirmish, he was faced with two alternatives. Either he became a shameful coward and retreated, or he gallantly made a sprint for the front lines amid a hail of water balloons, water pistols and anything else that would possibly hold water. In the background could be heard blood-curdling screams of terrified females as they were treacherously immersed in a cool mountain stream.

Suddenly, there came a neutral party frantically blowing a whistle, attempting an armistice. She met with little success and was promptly struck down by an assassin's (Dennis Minahen's) balloon. Incidentally, SHE was the frustrated proprietor.

As the day wore on, the activities became rather lackluster as the combatants engaged in a bit of softball or football, and a handful of hearty souls even braved the waters of the icy swimming pool. The highlight of the afternoon was the thorough soaking of Father Emery and a few innocent by-standers (card-playing nuns).

Well-stocked with groceries from the junior class, the entire regiment returned home satisfied. The day was officially declared a standoff.

Hungry seniors collapse while waiting to satisfy their wolfish appetites.

Certain faculty members seem to have given up pacifying soaked seniors in favor of their favorite card game.

Tired from a day of balloon throwing, a group of juniors relax by the pool.

EVENING OF

Fred Gust, Pat Riley, Joan Salmon and Alfred Dentone approach the dance floor through the Torii gate.

Rudy Gott, Lisa Brown, Richard Ciccarelli and Sharon DeCicco take a moment out from dancing to walk through the pagoda.

On May 16, members of the class of '65 presented their prom, "Evening of the Dragon," in honor of the graduating seniors.

Passing through a Japanese garden, juniors and seniors entered the gym which had been transformed into an oriental paradise. The music of Pete Davanis' orchestra was heard as couples moved across a dance floor encircled by manzanita trees adorned with flowers and ivy. The room was dimly lit by Japanese lanterns suspended from the ceiling. Leaving the dance floor through black and red Torii gates, the couples seated themselves at tables decorated with centerpieces which were replicas of the beautiful pagoda in the center of the gym floor. Lovely sophomore girls, dressed in the traditional Japanese kimonas, served punch and cookies to all the guests.

After the prom, the couples attended the special Mass offered in the student chapel which completed a wonderful evening.

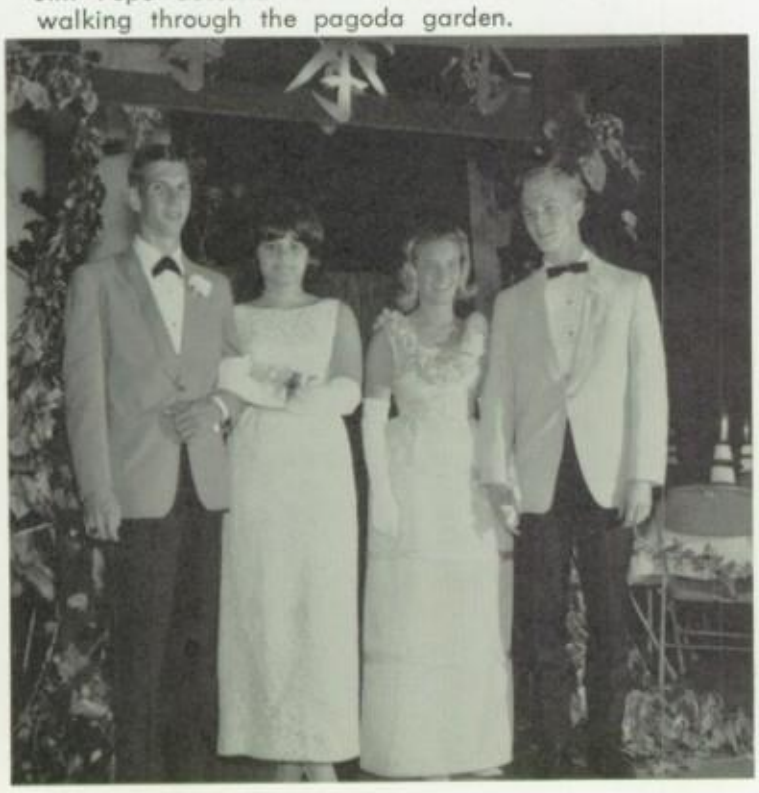
Junior girls eagerly work in order to complete the ivy decorations on the gates.

Henry Puga and Gail Patzak are happy to pose for photographer Jerry Gianelli.

THE DRAGON

Bob Carruesco, Carolyn Love, Don Isetti and Pam Paul enjoy the overall effect of the scenery.

Jerry Jacobs, Toni Valverde, Patti Boyle and Jim Pope descend to the dance floor after walking through the pagoda garden.



Tom Farnsworth, Cathy Nahigian, Julie Schmitz and Dennis Torney are ready for a dance to the music of Pete Davanis' orchestra.

Kathy Antonucci, Stan Varanstaf, Kathy Gnekow and Mike Hadasovich sample the refreshments served by the sophomores.

Couples are enchanted by the atmosphere of the lantern-lighted gym.

SPRING SPORTS BANQUET

Coach Bosque congratulates Herman Calad for his outstanding basketball player award.

Tom Leary and Ken Cassidy smile after receiving their B-basketball placques.

The traditional spring sports' banquet honoring the basketball, baseball, swimming, track, wrestling and, for the first time, golf teams, was presented in extraordinary fashion. However, despite a few minor roof difficulties from the unexpected rain, a delicious dinner was served, and letters were then awarded to all the deserving athletes. This year, St. Mary's was honored by the presence of U.S.F. basketball coach, Pete Poletta, who coached his fabulous Dons to a W.C.A.C. championship in '64. Coach Poletta gave an inspiring talk on athletics and life. Outstanding player awards were bestowed on Herman Calad for varsity basketball, Steve Clements for baseball, Randy Marino for track, and Tom Leary and Ken Cassidy for B-basketball. The Mike Canlis award for athletics and scholarship was presented to the Ram's stellar diver, Greg DeCristofaro.

MOTHER—DAUGHTER BANQUET

Mrs. Santos presents the outstanding volleyball award to Sharon DeCicco.

The only mother-daughter function at St. Mary's is held annually by the G.A.A. during May. Friends gather together in the cafeteria to enjoy a delicious dinner and a program of entertainment.

This year, Sister Rita, co-moderator of the G.A.A., was the guest speaker and gave a talk on the womanly characteristics reflected in team spirit. Following the presentation of awards by Mrs. Santos, the installation of the 1964-1965 G.A.A. officers took place.

Mothers, daughters and friends gathered for a pleasant evening prepared by the G.A.A.

Sister Rita, co-moderator of G.A.A., was the guest speaker for the evening.

HONORS

John Briscoe and Barbara Blain receive honors for the highest grade point averages during their sophomore year.

Greg DeCristofaro is awarded the Mike Canlis trophy for his athletic ability in swimming.

Pat Edelman is congratulated by Dr. Parenti for winning the honor of the Civitan Award.

CONGRATULATION

Inhabitants of Rumson Town form a happy chorus in "Paint Your Wagon" which received a standing ovation from the delighted audience.

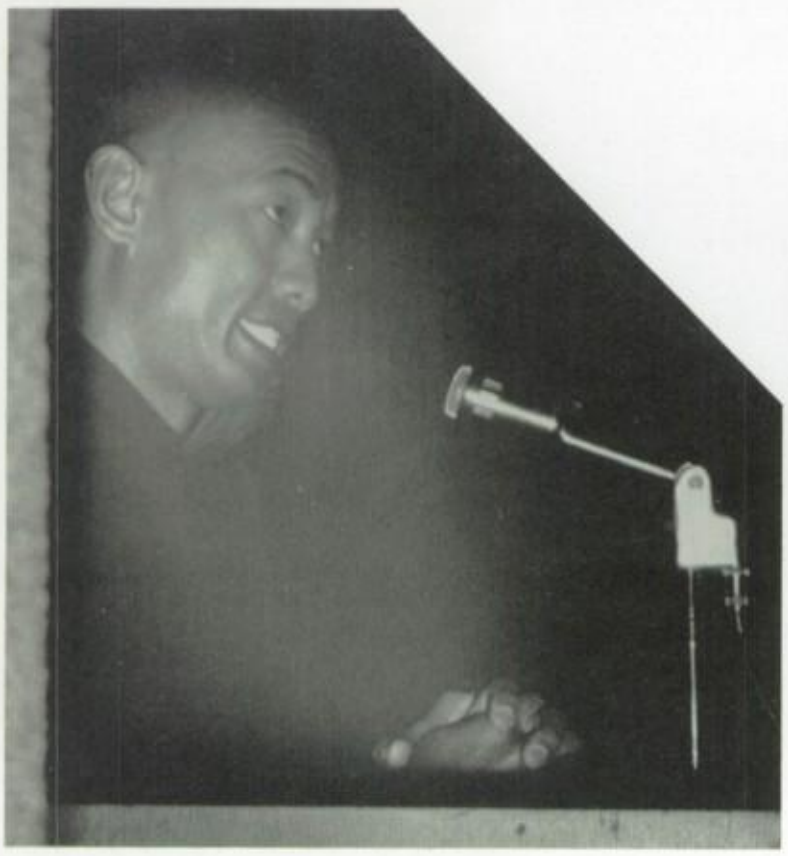
MAY CROWNING

May, the month of the first bloom roses, of skies always blue, the month of the Queen of earth and heaven—

In the darkness of the gym, the student body waited. Soon the silhouettes of students holding lighted candles appeared at the doorways, and the procession slowly wended its way to the flower-decked stage. As Marilyn Munoz lifted the crown of blossoms to the head of Our Lady. The eyes of the tiny attendants were large with wonder.

And now another May has gone—

May, the month of the springtime of the devotion of her children to their Mother.



Father Emery exhorts the student body to follow Our Lady's example by practicing the virtue of humility.

Reverent students in the living rosary honor Mary in her special month of May.

At the end of the rosary, candles are blown out as students move to their seats.

FAREWELL

Gloria Galvez, a most promising business-woman, is congratulated by Mrs. Lagorio for winning the Catholic Business Education Association award.

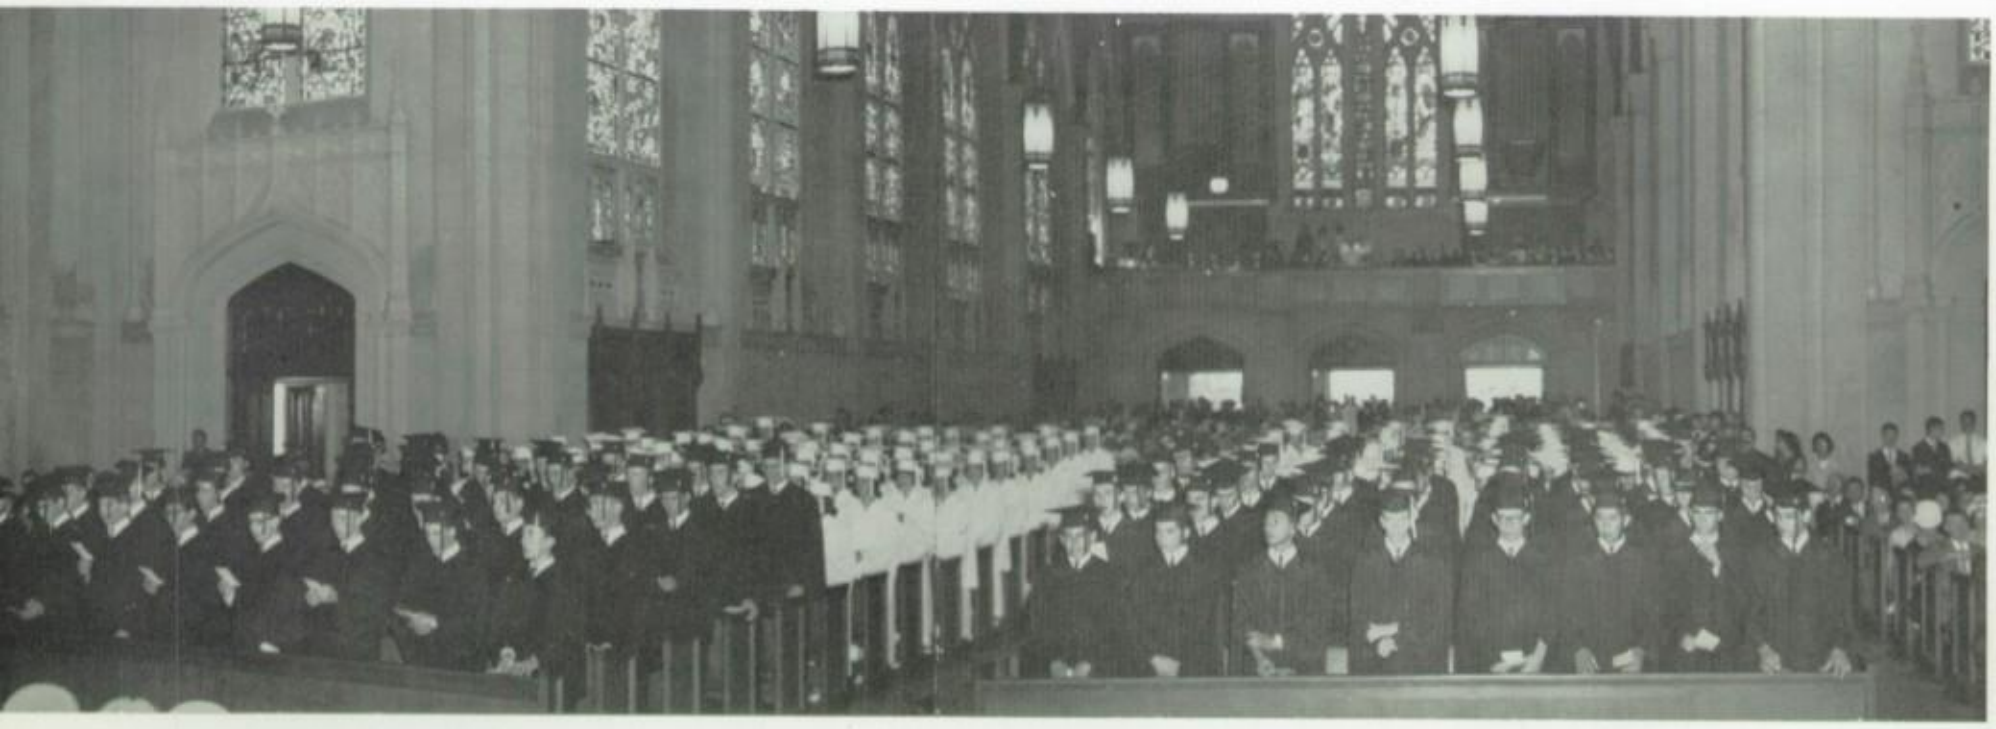
Outgoing senior officers descend from the stage so that those of 1964-1965 may take their places.

Graduating seniors are honored at a baccalaureate luncheon served by the junior girls.

Two excited seniors pause while Mrs. Whitson adjusts their gowns.

The graduates receive Communion together for the last time at the baccalaureate Mass.

GRADUATION



Their goal finally achieved, the graduates of 1964 raise their voices in a hymn of praise as the bishop enters the cathedral for commencement exercises.

Our commencement exercises were held for the first time this year in the Cathedral of the Annunciation which added to the grandeur of the impressive ceremony. Proud parents and friends gathered together to witness the conferral of diplomas to the graduating seniors.

Bishop Donohoe presented well-earned awards to many graduates, the most honored being the Bishop's Award presented to Gregory DeCristofaro and Marilyn Munoz. As we graduates left the cathedral, our smiling faces reflected satisfaction at the completion of our four years at St. Mary's, now our Alma Mater.

Sharon DeCicco accepts her diploma from Donohoe as a climax to four happy high school years.

Father De Groot and Father Cain smile on Greg DeCristofaro as he receives the coveted Bishop's Award from His Excellency.

Senior girls solemnly approach the bishop to receive their diplomas.

RAMS REVIEW

This year's squad played a much harder schedule than the Rams have in previous years. Mr. Hoellwarth, working his first year with the Rams, was a real bulwark to the spirit of the team.

The Rams had a strong ground game and a solid defense, though occasionally their lack of a consistent aerial attack forced them out of the victory column. Battling such big teams as Stagg and Edison, our boys put forth their all in every game.

RAMS REVIEW

As the season record clearly indicates, our Frosh-Soph team had an outstanding season, though they played the biggest and fastest teams in the area. The team had both spirit and ability, but the success of the season was due in no small part to the excellent coaching and leadership of Mr. Bosque, a new and capable man on the staff.

HOOP SEASON

Under the expert guidance of Coach Bosque, this year's squad posted an outstanding record against such top caliber opponents as Stagg, Lincoln and Lodi high schools. Often overmatched in size, our team compensated for lack of height by speed, maneuverability and tricky plays.

The student body was privileged to see exciting games throughout the season, such as those with Ceres and arch-rival Lincoln which were decided in overtimes. The "big gun" was senior Joe Bueno, though big Gene Giometti and Steve Shoneff were never far behind.

Playmakers Freddie Scholl and John Nahigian moved the ball well, while John O'Meara and Herman Calad were the big men on the boards.

Almost half the squad will be returning next year, an indication of more fine teams in the future for the Rams.

SEASON REVIEW

This year's sophomore cage squad has performed extremely well under the guidance of Coach "Stub" Hoellwarth. The team's rather mediocre record at the start of the season belied its actual strength. The Rams had fallen victim to numerous one-point losses and overtime heartbreakers. Blessed with better than average height, the Rams lined up formidably with all opponents.

Led by high-scoring center Tom Leary, rebound-snaring forwards Nick Canevari and Tim Ogburn, and sparked by playmakers Wayne Hernandez and John Roleri, the sophomores blitzed to a sparkling second place finish in the tough Stagg tournament and a smashing victory over arch-rival Lincoln High.

Ogburn takes a quick jump shot from the outside.

TRACK ACTION

This year's track team showed remarkable ability and balance for such a small squad. In the "A" division, Charles La Croix brought in points from the sprints, while Rich Garcia and Glenn Pierson came through in the distance running. Big Randy Donis was the star shot-putter, while Randy Morino packed in good performances at the pole vault.

In the "B" division, Ray Lemos showed great promise, while in the "C" group Ruben Lemon had great speed. All in all, our teams did incredibly well this year, and it is certain that this ever-expanding sport will always have a place at St. Mary's.

Pierson leads the pack in the distance running.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Mrs. Santos' pride and joy, the G.A.A. varsity basketball team, once again showed us a lot of class. Sharon De Cicco is a consistently accurate shooter whose point total for the season is little less than amazing in girls' basketball. Peggy Woods was the outstanding ball handler, whose clever playmaking and dribbling kept the other teams guessing. Norma Bucellato provided excellent coverage on the boards and was probably one of the finest rebounders in the area. All in all, it was a superb season.

Rosalie goes for extra points at the foul line while Sharon stands ready to grab the rebound.

M. Meza, N. Avila, H. Doneux, D. Podesto, J. Mandolati, C. Corrigan, P. Firpo, S. West, S. DeCicco, A. Almarez, Moderator Mrs. Santos.

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

This year a precedent was broken by bringing up several sophomores to the varsity volleyball team. Though they did not engage in too many games, these girls did very well. With experienced sophomores to begin as juniors next year, the prospects look very bright.

BASKETBALL

This year's junior varsity squad was undoubtedly one of the finest in the history of St. Mary's, passing the entire season undefeated, while engaging such competition as St. Vincent's of Vallejo and Bishop O'Dowd High School. The outstanding playmaker was sophomore Carol Corrigan, while Allison Lockheed's dead-eye shooting provided the points. With just a bit more seasoning, the junior varsity team should develop into an excellent varsity squad next year.

Standing: M. Gianelli, J. Mandolati, C. Wilkinson, A. Lockheed, N. Santos (moderator), P. Firpo, G. Hogue, H. Doneaux, A. Menneguzzi. Kneeling: J. Uomini, C. Corrigan, J. Wood.

A shot from the corner brings in two points.

JUNIOR VARSITY

VOLLEYBALL

The junior varsity volleyball team had several more freshman members than is usually the custom. This indicates an exceptional and experienced J.V. team for next year.

Standing: J. Lima, J. Wood, J. Pitts, N. Santos (moderator), D. Pecchinino, J. Uomini, R. Elkins. Kneeling: L. Hermosillo, I. Garcia, A. Lockheed, C. Garcia, J. Valverde.

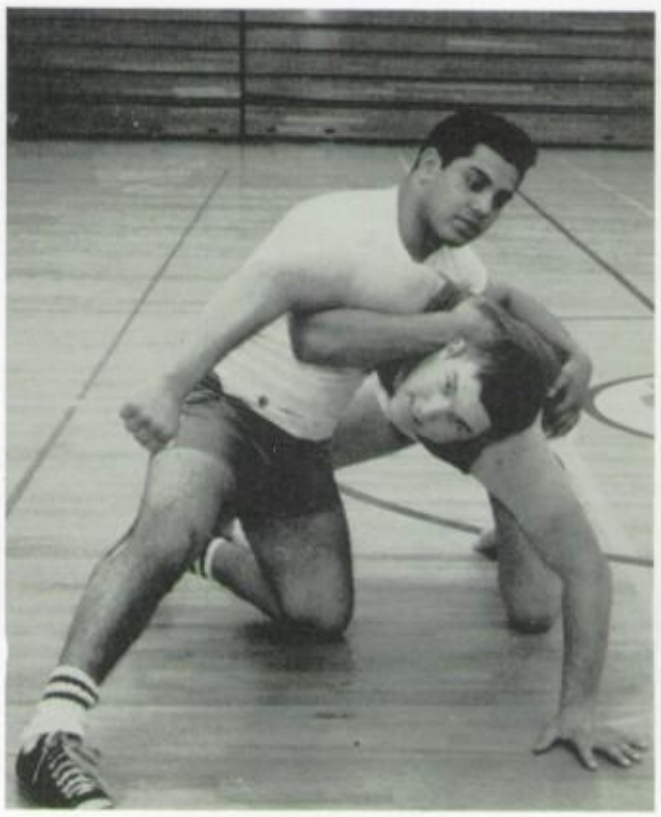
WRESTLING

COACH KEN COLEMAN

Standing: T. Hackett, R. Edelman, H. Puga. Kneeling: M. Ratto, S. Wallace, G. Garcia, D. Ratto.

A new and growing sport at St. Mary's is that of wrestling. Foremost among this year's grapplers was George Garcia, who, in two years of competition, has gone undefeated. His speed and strength enabled him to overcome some of the best wrestlers in the area with great dispatch.

Other members of the team also put in outstanding performances, such as team captain James McLaughlin, who is also a Judo student, Mike Ratto, and Tom Hackett. Several of these boys will be back next year and we wish them all the luck in the world.



George Garcia displays the finesse and power which enabled him to go undefeated throughout the season.

Mike Ratto pins Bob Edelman in an arduous workout.

Bob Edelman takes Dave Ratto down with a half-nelson.

I remember all the good times we've had in Algebra II. It's really been a riot trying to learn $E=mc^2$ and all that. But I guess we're all just lonely children, searching for a home. You're really absolutely a complete riot and would make a great good satirical comedian! Look out! Always,

Linda Beth
